Quality in the Right Place

Expensive upholstery doesn't prove that a car excels in quality. The real quality of a car is determined by its chassis—its power plant, transmission, axles, etc. Both by laboratory tests and actual service tests, the different parts composing the Ford chassis have proven themselves superior to those used in other cars. Ford Vanadium steel has never been surpassed in quality and strength.

Local Creameries Help the Dairyman

"We purpose putting every farmer's creamery out of business," is the way a representative of a large city manufacturer explains the methods of his firm in cream buying.

That is just what the big operators are trying to do at the present time. They have buyers all over the province, and are gathering all the cream they can no matter what price they pay. If there is no local creamery in the district the big firm pays all the way from thirty to thirty-five cents for butterfat. If there is a creamery in the district they pay as high as forty-eight cents, a great deal more than the product is worth, their only object being to put the local outfit out of business. When they have accomplished their end they are in a position to pay the lowest price they wish, and the farmer has to take it. Local creameries in Alberta are paying the full market value for cream and the farmer who takes the temporary high price from the big manufacturers will a little later find it very difficult to secure a price that is fair.

It is the local creamery that keeps up the price of cream, and dairymen will do well to remember this.

Rimbey Red Cross

At the business meeting of the Rimbey Red Cross, held in the Methodist church on Wednesday, June 12th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Iddings.
Vice-President, Mrs. Hachway.
Organizing Sec., Mrs. Brooks.
Sec.-Treas., Miss Flemming.
The Society will meet on the 1st and 3rd Fridays of each month.

Last week the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Brooks; next meeting, on Friday July 6, will be held at Mrs. Hachway's.

Those wishing to sew or knit can receive materials from Mrs. Iddings or Mrs. Brooks.

From Bad Lands

Now that the battle is over and the smoke is clearing away, what lessons are there for us in the election in Lacombe riding? First, it is apparent that peanuts are more potent as vote getters than hard shaking and kissing the babies by ninety odd. Second, it would seem that either the standing of the Sifton party or its representative in this riding was rotten when a few peanuts turned a majority of some 250 four years ago to a minority of ninety now. Third, some of the lady voters' memories were long enough to remember that in a public speech, Mr. Puffer told them their place was in the kitchen.

Helping the Enemy

If the Russian Revolution had been planned in Berlin it could hardly have been steered along in a more favorable to Germany than the course it has taken. From the first it paralyzed Russia as a military factor, relieved the pressure on the eastern front and enabled the Central Powers to concentrate their forces against the Western Allies. And now the provisional Government at Petrograd is demanding that the other Allies bring their war aims into alignment with the principle that there shall be no annexation of territory and no war indemnities imposed when peace comes to be made. What more could Germany ask save assurance that the Hohenzollern dynasty shall not be deposed or replaced by some other line equally liable to make a future strike for world power? If Germany were to emerge from the war as it entered the war, and with no penalties imposed for the crimes it has committed, what would be the use of having fought for liberty at all? The future security of the world—including, and particularly, the security of Russia—demand such readjustment of the German Empire and such penalty upon the German people that they will never tolerate the up-growth of future ambitions for world power on the part of any ruler. The devil was certainly good to his own when he provoked the Russian revolution at a time when the Kaiser so much needed it, and steered it along lines which tend to nullify the guarantee of future security without which the battle for freedom would have been fought in vain.

Since sooner or later home rule will be a fact in Ireland, the question of an Irish flag is one which is being discussed. A good deal of thought has been given upon the subject since the passing of the home rule act. Apparently, the proposals which have met with most approval are a red St. Patrick's Cross on a white ground charged with four shamrocks, and a "golden sunburst on a blue ground." The latter was the banner of Lord Macdonnell's Fenians. Another design, which has supporters consists of three golden crowns on a blue ground, part of the arms of Munster. This was Ireland's national emblem from the twelfth century until the three crowns were replaced by the harp, by order of Henry VIII. Nobody has proposed green as one of the colors, green first being used by the United Irishmen in 1798 as an "amalgamation" of the orange of the north and the blue in the south, blue being Ireland's own heraldic color.

OFFENSIVE AT ONCE BY RUSSIAN TROOPS.

Petrograd, via London, June 17.—The Duma in secret session has passed a resolution for the immediate offensive by the Russian troops. The resolution declares a separate peace with Germany or prolonged inactivity on the battlefield to be ignominious treason towards Russia's allies, for which future generations never would pardon the Russia of the present day.

The Duma therefore considers resolution, and adds, "that the safety of Russia and maintenance of the liberties which have been obtained is in an immediate offensive in close co-operation with Russia's allies."

"Little Miss Innocence" drew a fair audience at the Concert on Saturday evening, and the performance was enjoyed by everyone.

DUNLOP TRACTION TREAD

The traction engine was made to grip. So was Dunlop Traction Tread. Nothing has yet taken the place of the traction engine for long, cool, heavy service. We don't think any other tire will ever take the place of Dunlop Traction Tread for the same function.

In a certain sense, Dunlop Traction Tread is faster than Canada. "Traction" is inimitable. Near imitation may be found in many countries. Men have written from various portions of the world seeking the agency.

"Traction" holds the Canadian transcontinental tire record as a kid-racer; made it possible for punctures to be a forgotten evil; drove out the dust nuisance; made auto-mobiling by women more general; gave men all over the country a new idea of mileage.

In short, Dunlop Traction Tread has popularized motoring; and, for the first time in the history of the motor car, has made Safety a certainty.

DO IT NOW!

There is a tendency on the part of many people and institutions to put off momentous business until after the war. This is an attitude which is not conducive to our present comfort and peace of mind, and which is likely to prove the most serious menace to our future welfare. When all the people simply watch a fire, it does not help to put out the blaze, and the neglect of important business elsewhere has serious consequences.

Any undertaking which requires labor or material necessary to carry on the war should be postponed until after the war, unless it is immediately necessary for war or public purposes, but moral problems, problems of public administration, social problems—these cannot wait until after the war for solution. They must be settled now as fast as they come up, so as to leave us with a free hand for reconstruction.

We do not know now how long this war will last. There was a time when we were sure it would be over in three years at the outside. Now we do not know. Therefore, it behooves us to go about our work with energy, to have a stout heart and so keep our vision clear. That is the only way. Restless repining will not help us or the soldiers. We must do our duty at home as well as abroad, facing our problems with the same sanity and fortitude as our soldiers face theirs. We must put a little more energy into the work, exercise more conscientious care than before because we must think for the soldiers and their dependents as well as for ourselves.

When the war is over the greatest economic and social problems of the age will pile up before us. For several years we will be engaged in the re-establishment of returned soldiers in civilian life, and in properly adjusting all kinds of business so as to absorb this population without too great loss of efficiency. Must be laying the foundation for that now, by meeting every problem as it arises, by facing it squarely and answering with certainty.

A Tribute

The following is from The Richmond (Virginia) Times-Dispatch of May 20th, 1917:

"Governor Stuart to his toast to King George, holding aloft a glass of water, said:

"In this glass I hold that which by the sovereign will of the people of Virginia, is to the wife of the country, clear as the principles of liberty and justice in which we make common cause, pure as the union of heart and purpose typified by the three flags entwined before us, strong in that it supplies in this hour the most vital needs of both statesman and soldier, distilled on the hills overlooking the mighty James, on whose banks the first permanent English settlement in the Western world was established; spontaneous as the good will towards our distinguished guests from overseas, which spring from our hearts and our lips in this hour by these toasts I propose, the health of the King of England."

Mr. Balfour responded for the British, said:

"I cannot rival the eloquence with which our host today has eulogized the life of wine of the country; but I can, with enthusiasm not less sincere than his own, propose a toast which has always been dear to the hearts of all Englishmen, but never so dear as now—the President of the United States."

Only 15,000 French Canadians in Army.

Ottawa, June 14.—The total number of French Canadians in the overseas forces up to April 30 last was 14,000. The French-Canadian soldiers, commanded by officers speaking the French language and serving with units organized in the province of Quebec, was 5,443. Soldiers speaking the French language belonging to units organized in the Province of Quebec numbered 1,536. French-Canadian soldiers serving in units organized outside the province of Quebec totaled 7,064. The above figures do not include French-Canadian soldiers in the first contingent. Owing to all the members of the first contingent having been re-attested at Valcartier, it is impossible to state their original place of origin. However, the total number of French-Canadian soldiers in the first contingent was 1,127. The definite figures therefore, show that 6,579 French-Canadians enlisted in the province of Quebec, 5,904 outside of it, and 1,217 from both inside and outside the province.

The native born English speaking members of the overseas forces up to April 30 last were 124,226, and the number of British born soldiers in the forces was 155,005.

There are no figures available as to the number of naturalized British subjects in the Canadian army.

This information was laid on the table of the commons to day by the minister of militia.

HATTIE WARREN
Port Robinson, Ont., July 8th, 1915.
"We have used 'Fruit-a-lives' in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with Kidney Disease. The Doctor said she was threatened with Dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for 'Fruit-a-lives', and would never be without them."

OH, SUCH A HEADACHE!

Every now and again don't you get one of those fearful headaches that drive you to do anything to get relief? Remember, though, it is a mistake to just "brush off" the pain without removing the cause. Nearly all headaches have their beginning in the same way, they are born, and they last exactly as Chamberlain's Tablets, which ease the pain, soothe the stomach and cleanse the bowels. This not only cures the headache but prevents its return.

The Nation at War

Little more than half a century ago, when the clouds were low over the British provinces in North America, and the outlook was threatening without and within, two great Canadian leaders, strong partisans, bitter opponents, but great patriotic men laid aside their animosity of many years and set about laying the foundation for the Canadian nation. For ten years George Brown and John A. Macdonald had not spoken to each other. They were more bitter antagonists than any other two public men in Canada today. But they saw a duty to their country, and they performed it. The result was confederation.

Conditions were less threatening then than now. The need of single action by all Canadians, eliminating petty partisanship, was never as great as at the present time. Canada is launching forth upon a policy which endangers confederation. The future, both within and without, is not without alarm. But two Canadian leaders cannot forget their party antagonism, and the parties insist in the very teeth of disaster, in playing the party game. We have sunk deeper in our partisanship in recent years. It is needless at this time to discuss question whether Brown or Macdonald did most to bring about confederation. It is also pointless to discuss whether Borden or Laurier is most at fault in bringing about the present unfortunate condition of affairs. One party insist that Borden made the offer and Laurier declined it. The other party will retort that Borden created the policy and then asked Laurier to accept it ready made, instead of having some word in the making of it.

But the unfortunate fact remains that at a time when the party division should be eliminated, it exerts the most evil influence.

In the house on Friday, the members debated all day upon a petty appointment of a French Canadian official. The debate was not without its thrills but it was petty when the nation is in danger.

The people in Canada for the most part, with the exception of many of the Dominion members of parliament, have recognized the fact that the nation is at war and are doing their part nobly in the grim struggle. Many of the members of the Canadian parliament, unfortunately, do not know yet that the Nation is at war.

DEATH OF MRS. MANLY

Mrs. Prudence Olive Manly, aged 83 years, 10 months and 15 days, died Friday, May 25, at the residence of her son L. H. Manly, Edmonton. The funeral service was held Monday, 28th at 2 o'clock, from Wainwright & Jackson's undertaking parlors, to Mount Pleasant cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. R. N. Matheson, Namay, assisted by Rev. H. J. Keith Edmonton.

DESTROY SUBMARINES AS FAST AS MADE

New York, June 14.—Arthur H. Pollen, an English expert on naval gunnery whose articles in Land and Water are credited with having helped to force the reorganization of the British Admiralty, has arrived in New York to give lectures on the war.

In an interview Mr. Pollen said the British admiralty is using every means to overcome the submarine, but whether the danger was diminished or not would make no material difference in the final outcome.

"From what I have been told by those in a position to know," Mr. Pollen continued, "the British admiralty has captured or sunk three German submarines a week since the beginning of February, and in one week I believe the average was one a day. I had not learned before I left England what progress had been made with the new method of destroying U. Boats by mines as they left their own waters, but I believe that it has proved successful. The Germans are putting out three submarines a week, which about equals the destruction of the craft by the British."

At The Rex

Thursday, Red Cross Night at the Rex. "The Honor of Mary Blake" is the big Bluebird feature. Violet Mercereau is in the leading role, and is supported by an all star cast. The Bluebird features on Red Cross nights are drawing the crowds, and every feature seems to be better than the previous one. Mrs. Graham will have charge of the music.

Saturday night at the Rex is always Red Feather night and thrilling photo features supplied on these occasions are well worth seeing. Since the Rex has been renovated and enlarged, it is an ideal place to spend a warm summer evening. Electric fans keep you cool on the warmest nights, and the large suction fan installed a month ago of fresh air all the time.

Fox features cost more money than any other films on the market, and they are worth it. Monday night, the "Fox" feature night at the Rex and these high class productions are becoming favorites with Lacombe audiences. On Monday evening next the Fox feature "The Wonderful Adventure" will be presented for the first time in Alberta. It is a drama of Modern life and tense interest. In the production of "The Wonderful Adventure," in which William Farnum is starred the actor plays a role which is in reality two parts, as it deals with a dual personality. The drama, which is from the pen of the noted author, Captain Wibur Lawton, is mainly based upon the Jekyll and Hyde characters of John Stanley, the young engineer, and Desmond, the drug fiend who resembles him so closely that it is next to impossible to tell them apart. Do not miss it.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: "They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength. It makes them sturdy and strong and active."

The new McLaughlin Light Six, D-6-63 is the ideal car for the man who wants the smooth, flexible power of a six-cylinder car at a popular price. This new McLaughlin is an improvement on and continuance of Model D-60. It is a more powerful car than its predecessor, and represents greatly enhanced values, with but a nominal increase in price to cover the increased size and additional features. This McLaughlin model has more actual power and more proportional power than any car of its size—one H.P. to every 54 lbs. of weight. Gasoline consumption is very low, and cases are numerous where owners secured upwards of 28 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Let us demonstrate this car to you.

DELCO-LIGHT

For the first time electric light and power are available to anyone—anywhere. Heretofore, the benefits of electricity have been confined to those who live in the larger towns and cities.

Now Delco-Light makes electric current universally available.

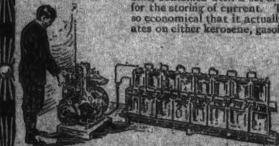

Delco-Light is today furnishing thousands of farm-houses with brilliant, convenient, safe and economical light.

It is furnishing power to operate pumps, washing machines, churns, cream separators, milking machines, vacuum cleaners, etc.

It is lighting country churches, stores and public halls.

It is furnishing light and power to summer homes and camps, to houseboats and yachts, etc.

Delco-Light is a complete electric plant—the engine and dynamo in one compact unit, combined with a set of specially built and wonderfully efficient batteries for the storing of current. The plant is so simple a child can care for it, and so economical that it actually pays for itself in time and labor saved. It operates on either kerosene, gasoline or natural gas.

It is lighting rural railway stations and construction camps.

It is lighting the camps of United States troops on the Mexican border, and it is disclosing heretofore undreamed-of beauties in the depths of Mammoth Cave, Kentucky.

Altogether, over 15,000 Delco-Light plants are in operation, and Delco-Light offices and service stations are to be found in almost every part of the world.

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY APPEALS TO OUR PEOPLE

"Urgent cables from England tell the story of the fear of our representatives lest our supplies run short; and the suffering of sick and wounded be thereby unnecessarily increased."

Such is the message sent throughout the length and breadth of Canada today calling upon the Red Cross workers to redouble their efforts, urging upon our people a more united service in the interest of the Red Cross.

What Are We Doing?

In our province of Alberta its population of close on 400,000 is every man and woman doing his and her share to assist the needs of our men? If not, what is the reason? From almost every community in our midst men have gone forth to fight. They left us amidst cheers and flag waving, our emotions were profoundly stirred in watching them depart. But as citizens of Alberta, as members of the communities from which these men have gone, have we no further obligations towards them? Shall we allow our sentiments of patriotism and sympathy to flicker out—smothered by mere apathy or selfishness?

A direct channel of communication exists between our people at home and the men who are fighting for us abroad. Today, a great chain of wooden stretchers across Canada from the Pacific to the Atlantic, across the Atlantic to the battlefields of France and Flanders, to where the stretcher-bearers wait behind front line trenches, to pick up the wounded and dying, and convey them to the Dressing Stations. It is a chain composed of living men and women, of concentrated human energy, of intellect and of devotion. On every link of it is stamped that blood red symbol of mercy—the emblem of the Red Cross. If you are not a part of that chain today, if you are not connected in some way with Red Cross activity, you are failing to grasp one of the greatest opportunities for human service which has ever been placed within reach of the individual. The Red Cross needs your help. On the battlefields our men are fighting; in Casualty clearing and Dressing Stations our Stretcher-Bearers and Surgeons are doing their part; in Hospitals, Doctors, Nurses and Orderlies are doing theirs. At our supply depots abroad, men and women are working ceaselessly without rest, and without thought of reward. Here in our midst the women making a shirt or sewing bandages in her lonely homestead on the prairies; the children knitting in our schools; the farmer giving his produce to be sold for the Red Cross; the City man making contributions from a hard earned salary; these workers are essential links in the great chain, the most essential perhaps—for with our home workers lies the fountain source of supply. The clothing, the socks, the bandages, the numberless comforts, drugs, anaesthetics, the merciful surgical appliances for easing pain, it is our power to give or to withhold. What is to be the answer? It remains for our people through the medium of the Red Cross to express their devotion and sympathy for the men who are suffering on our behalf.

Alberta's Red Cross Day. The 2nd of July next, on which date celebrations in connection with the Jubilee of our Canadian Confederation will be held, is being set aside throughout this province by Proclamation of his honor, the Lieutenant Governor, as Red Cross Day for Alberta.

This Red Cross appeal challenges every individual in the community to do his utmost, and none should plead lack of knowledge in regard to the work of the Society. We have in our midst one of the largest and best organized home bases in Canada, the Alberta Provincial Depot at Calgary. Information in regard to the work and needs of the Red Cross may always be obtained there. On the 2nd July we as citizens of Alberta will have the opportunity to make universal and generous testimony to our admiration for deeds of unprecedented valour and endurance performed by our Canadian Soldiers.

Let us make this testimony a full assurance that so long as the men and women of Alberta have hearts that can beat proudly in response to proud deeds, so long as they have the means to give, and the hands with which to work—so long will their energies and affections be united in an undivided determination that there shall be no shortage of supplies or money for the relief of our sick and wounded. Let us remember that to carry out such determination will demand persistent effort, will call for unlimited sacrifice. That beyond the concentrated energy of a day must be the continued interest, the unremitting toil of months even of years—if necessary.

The time is come when we must act in unison if we are to meet the demands made upon us. Let every municipality in Alberta endeavor so to rouse the interest of its citizens, so to fire their zeal and strengthen their enthusiasm, that this Red Cross appeal while achieving its full measure of success, may also inaugurate amongst us a new era of devotion, a fervent and more earnest spirit of patriotic service.

The Jubilee of Confederation. Alberta's Red Cross Day.

Sir William Crookes' Glass

Probably the best tinted glass ever invented for the relief of eye-strain caused by too bright sun-light, is the glass invented by Sir William Crookes.

One of its good points is that the tinting is almost invisible. When on the face it is hard to tell them from white glass.

We can have your lenses ground in this glass, and you can enjoy the bright Summer days without suffering from the bright sun-light.

Representatives Talk Over Proposed Free Rural Hospital at Lacombe

A joint meeting of representatives from the several Local Improvement Districts interested in the establishment of a Rural Free Hospital at Lacombe, and the Lacombe hospital board, was held in the Masonic hall on Monday afternoon last, with B. F. Allison, of Clive, as Chairman, and Jesse Fraser, acting secretary.

Minutes of the previous meeting held on May 11th were read and, on motion of David Foren seconded by F. A. Gralapp were adopted.

Representatives and delegates from the different Local Improvement Districts were reported as follows:

No. 398—B. F. Allison, Mrs. Walter Parlyby, and Peter Russell.

399—David Foren and F. A. Gralapp.

400—J. C. Everaden, S. M. Berger and H. L. Brownlow.

428—P. R. Stewart, F. J. Bullock, Jas. Kinley and Cunningham, M. L. A.

After several addresses from representatives present, the Chairman called the meeting to order and asked the delegates to hand in their petitions if they had them completed, but as all the district was not represented it was felt that it would be better to wait and find out what districts would come into a hospital Municipality with a Hospital in Lacombe.

Mr. Foren, 399, said his authority was only to support the proposition provided the five districts and the Town of Lacombe would come in as a unit.

Mr. Brownlow of District 400 intimated that his district was willing to come in with District 399 under similar arrangement.

Mr. Cunningham Dist. 428, Ponoka, said he was there to protest against being taken in on this arrangement, as it was the desire of the Districts north of Lacombe to have a municipality formed and a Hospital built in Ponoka, in which statement he was seconded by James Kinley.

After discussing these various matters a motion was put, "By David Foren and seconded and carried, That the Secretary of the meeting notify the Secretaries of each L.I. Dist. also Town of Lacombe and the Villages of Mirror, Alix, Clive, Blackheads, Bentley, Rimbey, and Aspen Beach of another meeting to be held at Lacombe on Thursday 5th July, and that these places be asked to send representatives to said meeting." Then moved by F. Russell seconded by D. Foren that this meeting adjourn to meet again at the same place on Thursday, 5th July, next. Carried.

Clean Up

I have been asked by the chairman of the Public Works Committee, to inform the citizens of Lacombe that teams will call on Saturday, June 23, for tin bottles and like material that are placed at the back of lots or at the entrance to the alleys. Those not complying with this will be required to remove the same at their own expense. A word to the wise is sufficient. An inspection will be made afterwards, to see that the yards are cleaned and in a sanitary condition.

W. J. SIMPSON,
Health Officer.
